We recognize that sincere believers may hold differing interpretations on secondary theological issues, such as eschatology, covenant versus dispensational frameworks, or the continuation of spiritual gifts. Our presentation of these views is intended for edification and discussion, not division, and we affirm the unity of all who hold to the core of the Christian faith.

Any errors are unintentional, reflecting the inherent limitations of human and technological endeavor. Technology, as a tool, is employed here for the purposes of teaching, clarity, and exploration, always submitted to the ultimate authority of God’s Word. We encourage all readers to thoughtfully examine all things, examining everything against the Holy Scripture.

To expanded on what's been addressed to this point, of which the goal here at DareToThink is to gather information collected on topics from varied sources. DareToThink includes a development of peoples work who had the initiative to collect and compose their thoughts; writing articles, papers and arranging multi-media presentations that followed unconventional or unorthodox thinking outside reason by our society of the 21st century. Therefore, a concerted and ongoing effort will take place to collect thoughts and commentary with content that advances and broadens your thinking, thus, to stimulate thought away from the usual main-stream understanding.

It's hoped that the information will drive one to see the importance of the many topics covered, however, they may be difficult to accept, because these topics, especially on Biblical subjects, include complex subjects requiring some deep thought to comprehend. It may appear that some of the issues discussed here are small or inconsequential, however, as unimportant as they may seem, all the issues discussed are just small snapshots of a bigger picture.

Events of recent times make it necessary to understand historical phases of change in our society, and with the changes we've gone through, which coincide with present-day events, it will take self-control, strong initiative and discipline to discover an awakening that will show us of our past conditioning and how it has modeled our thinking. When thought-provoking subjects are presented, it's the expectation these issues will incentivize each to discuss and share with others. Hopefully the take-away from information collected here will challenge us to look at what we've been conditioned to.

Therefore, it's imperative for all to focus on who the real masters of manipulation are, and how it became to be that they got control of our thinking. To resolve in our minds, once and for all, it is critical to focus on those who are the collective syndicate of individuals and/or entities, who have enormous wealth and power, but discreetly get away with pushing half-truths and deceit. Again, it's going to be a disciplining undertaking to find the answer. Ask yourself, who are these people? Could we say they're masters of evil, secret organizations, or are these implants in government, and are they the ones who pull this world's strings putting us to sleep to many falsehoods. Now, what will you do with this information?

Consider the following:

- If the world's people are the puppets then who are the puppeteers?
- Who is that shady person or group that is manipulating everyone from behind the curtain?
- What do they manipulate?
- How do they do it?
- Do they forge letters, destroy evidence, control minds?
- What do they gain from doing this?
- Are they hungry for power, running a dictatorship, or trying to save the world?

Sadly, but a simple answer to above; it's only for one purpose, and that is to influence the world's population to follow their hidden agenda, that eventually will enslave us all. To allow the truth into our thinking may be a disturbing task. So, if you're interested and want to continue on with where this rabbit hole goes, then I ask you the same question that Morpheus asked Thomas in the movie Matrix.

> You take the blue pill, the story ends. You wake up in your bed and believe whatever you want to believe. You take the red pill. You stay in Wonderland, and I show you how deep the rabbit hole goes. Remember, all I am offering is the truth, nothing more.

Morpheus – The Matrix

The world is a dangerous place, not because of those who do evil, but because of those who look on and do nothing.
